About Us

Tom Holden is the photo editor for the Kerrville Daily Times. He has been a professional photographer for ___ years and is in charge of all photo art for the daily newspaper, published six days per week.

Aaron Yates is a staff photographer for the Kerrville Daily Times and is owner/operator of Texas Pro Sound & Video, a professional videography firm. Aaron specializes in photography and videography and has been performing these functions at weddings since 2007.

We use professional equipment including both Canon and Nikon cameras and lenses. For more information on specific equipment and techniques, please contact us.

Our wedding photography style is photojournalistic, given our backgrounds in news photography. However, we do recognize the need for professionally posed portraits of wedding party and family, and we do provide that service as well. That said, most of the wedding photos you receive from us will not be staged, but will capture the action and emotion from the wedding day from a candid and journalistic perspective.

Our photography philosophy is that every wedding needs coverage from a professional photographer. To keep photography affordable, we have created this menu pricing method instead of static packages so that couples can pick and choose the type of coverage they need, the duration, and the deliverables.
